• Sec. 11-107. - Fees for hazardous materials, chemicals and wastes.

The fee to be paid by each facility and transshipment facility is determined by the amount and character of the hazardous materials, hazardous chemicals, and/or hazardous wastes handled at a facility as determined below:

- (1) The fixed facility fee shall be calculated:
 For hazardous materials, as set out in Table 1, by multiplying the base permit cost (~~$50.00~~) ($66.50) by the quantity range number; multiplied by the risk factor. The fee shall range from ~~$55.00~~ $73.15 to ~~$2,240.00~~ $2,979.20.
  - a. For extremely hazardous substances, as set out in Table 2, by multiplying the base permit cost (~~$100.00~~) ($133.00) by the quantity range number, multiplied by the risk factor. The fee shall range from ~~$110.00~~ $146.00 to ~~$2,240.00~~ $2,979.20
  - b. A fixed price may be given to a specific hazardous material, if the fire marshal determines that the specific use, storage method, or quantity on-hand does not constitute an unreasonable danger to public health and safety.
- (2) Quantity range number. The quantity range number shall be determined by the aggregate amount of all hazardous materials, hazardous chemicals or hazardous wastes identified at a facility. This quantity range number will remain the basis for the annual permit fee until such time as the business is fully re-inspected. Full re-inspections include a full inventory of materials and can be conducted at the request of the business or the fire marshal or his designee. The quantity range number for "hazardous materials" is determined on Table 1. The quantity range number for "extremely hazardous materials" is determined on Table 2.

Any public event sponsored by a for-profit organization or organizations found to have hazardous materials on-site will be assessed a hazardous materials permit fee.

A hazardous materials permit is required for any public event where a hazardous material is used, made, sold, traded or displayed. If the public event falls into the category that requires a hazardous materials permit fee to be assessed, the following fee tables will be used to determine the permit fee. All fees are the responsibility of the organization that is sponsoring or organizing the special event.
